About Me:

I am a professional actor by trade having performed in over 100 theatrical productions all over the country. I have also shot dozens of sales and training videos for a variety of companies as spokesman or representing the customer or business team. For over 30 years I have committed to "Business Theatre." I have worked as emcee, spokesman, game show host or have done character work for trade shows, sales/annual meetings, other live and on camera events all over the world.

With top-of-the-line ear prompter skills I can turn scripts around on a dime and still maintain a conversational tone. I take great pride in how I integrate with the team at hand. Because it's not about me. I am committed to communicating your message. And I always succeed in having the "audience" believe that I am either one of them or one of the sales, technical or marketing team. Performing with energy, honesty, credibility, and professionalism is my signature.
